15

All members are invited and encouraged to attend the Association's annual meeting. Volunteers are welcome to come together afterwards for refreshments. Bring a friend to introduce and get involved with our enthusiastic and diverse group!

Supper, Evening with John Galuzzo “Irish Moss: A Nearly Forgotten South Shore Industry”

Saturday Dinner 6:00 pm
Lecture 7:00 pm

June

25

$15 (Members); $18 (Non-Members)
To reserve, call (781) 834-8010
Two Irishmen fishing the South Shore stumbled across a familiar plant, chondrus crispus, washing ashore on a Scituate beach in 1848, recognizing it immediately as the productive and lucrative “Irish moss” of their ancestral land across the Atlantic. They began harvesting it that day, and started an industry that lasted 150 years. After a hearty ham and bean supper, join John Galuzzo, former executive director of the Scituate Historical Society and now director of the Jones River Village Historical Society in Kingston, for a journey into the world of Irish mossaing, an acutely specific local history story.

3rd Annual Twilight Band Concert

Sunday 5:30 pm

July

3

Free
Come and celebrate the eve of America's birthday! Bring your family, friends, and a picnic supper. Local performers including The Apron Strings, Paul McCarthy, and Three of Cups will entertain with patriotic sounds and spirit in one of the country's oldest houses.

Supper, Evening with Thomas O'Connor “What’s So Different About Boston?”

Saturday Dinner 6:00 pm
Lecture 7:00 pm

July

23

$15 (Members); $18 (Non-Members)
To reserve, call (781) 837-3733
While serving as University Historian of Boston College, Dr. Thomas O'Connor has developed an infatuation with the City of Boston. Enjoy a classic New England chowder supper and enlightening discussion of Boston's distinguishing qualities. In talking about the city's economic development, social and cultural history, and diverse ethnic and racial characteristics, many ways will be revealed in which Boston appeared to be stuck in the past while actually being among the forefront in financial innovations, social experiments, and demographic changes.

Tavern Night at the Olde Winslow House

In 1755, British forces headed by Gen. John

Winslow took part in the forced removal of the French farmers from the land they had renamed Nova Scotia. The “Grand Derangement”, as it was known, resulted in the dispersal of the Acadians to the British colonies along the east coast, the Caribbean, Britain, and back to France. Their plight was made famous in Longfellow's epic poem Evangeline—but how accurate was this portrayal? What was the role played by New Englanders in this episode and what became of the Acadians? In observance of the campaign's 250th anniversary, examine the events that led to the extradition of these peoples and the aftereffects, both in Canada and in New England, and what role Massachusetts residents such as Gen. Winslow played in this saga.

Coffee Series

“Decorative Arts and the Flowering of American Tin”

Tuesday Patricia Smith

July

12

Patricia Smith from the Historical Society of Early American Decoration will discuss and instruct about the decorative techniques of American tinware. There will be many reproductions shown which reflect the rich history of tin art and techniques that were popular in both England and America in the 18th and 19th centuries.

“Mark Twain’s ‘Morals Lectures’”

Tuesday Bern Budd

July

26

A local actor and director, Bern Budd presents the person of Mark Twain in 1890. Budd keeps faithfully to Twain's irreverent and self-deprecating form of humor while reenacting his famous “Morals Lectures” in which he proclaimed, “It is better to have bad morals than none at all!” and also announced his candidacy for President of the United States.

Coffee 10:30 am; Lecture 11:00 am
Series: $15 (Members); $25 (Non-Members)
Single Lecture: $5 (Members); $7 (Non-Members)

“Estate Art and Antiques”

Tuesday Steven Fletcher

Aug.

9

Steven Fletcher of Skinner Auctioneers and Appraisers in Bolton is widely regarded as one of the nation's foremost experts on early American furniture, decorative arts, and folk art. He is frequently seen on the popular PBS television show “Antiques Roadshow.” Mr. Fletcher will be discussing his experience in the antique auction business.

“Ideology and Early American Diplomacy”

Tuesday Robert Smith

Aug.

23

The Association's own Prof. Robert Smith will discuss his recently published historical work, Keeping the Republic: Ideology and Early American Diplomacy. Learn how the principles and philosophy that brought about the American Revolution continued to influence the country's foreign policy through the War of 1812.
